

Source's Fire Purification

The Source is the Source of all there is. It's what we are made of and come from regardless of the vehicle.
Your Divine Spark is Source on a different scale.
If it resonates with you, it's fine. If it doesn't, it's fine too.
You do what you want of your own will.
You can share freely to the World.

In Brief:

- Get in the no thought zone
- Stay as long as you need
- Purify with Source Fire
- Stay as long as you need

When it comes to subtle work, it's more effective when you center yourself.
It might be easier for some than others, but it's ok if you don't achieve it every time.
The idea is to relax and let things flow to what is.

The zone for me is a place of no thoughts and calm that I feel when I bring my Consciousness at or near the center of the head.
It's kind of like sitting your brain child for a mental break.
Let the tensions and mental Will go, just be present in the Infinite Consciousness I AM.
Simply breathe and feel what is happening.
Sometimes I snore a bit at first even though I AM awake. It means I AM relaxing and I AM releasing tensions.
If you feel tensed areas, notice it and relax it while breathing gently.
You can stay in this zone as long as you need.
Feel and enjoy the calm and let it expand.
Your Consciousness will go where it needs to go in your body.
Let it be. Feel and let it be. Let The Source Flow...

When you are ready you say:

"I Purify My Entire Being With Source's Fire"

Imagine or not the Divine Source's fire burning in and out your entire body and Being;
Consuming all the bad stuff what ever they are.
Source's Fire is Infinitely Powerful and consumes all that needs to be dissolve, but it's a Divine gentle and warm Fire for your Being.
Imagine it...
Feel what is happening...
Let it do its work...
Your are safe, cared for by the Source of All there is.
Feel free to adjust the Fire's intensity in the darker or more tense area in your body, but then let it work;
Breathe and feel as long as you need...
Stay as long as you need...

You can say thank you and feel grateful once complete.